Gotcha. Caught you reading the flap of your dogs food pack. That's hardcore. There's a place for people like you:

Bark

THE IMPORTANCE OF YOUR DOG'S NUTRITION

The quality of the food you feed makes a direct difference in your pet's health. Quality is the key word, quality of the ingredients that go into the making of the pet food you feed. The old saying "You are what you eat" applies to our pets in the same ways as it does for ourselves. Better quality foods made with better quality ingredients provide a better quality of life. The result is fewer skin conditions, less itching, fewer ear infections, shinier coats, less inflammatory, bowel disease, better muscling and muscle tone, stronger bones, more energy, better temperament and other immediate physical benefits of better nutrition.

Eat Right, Stay Healthy.
